PROJECTS

Roll Oracle — Dice Analytics Web App | Personal Project

<https://morganneedham.github.io/roll-oracle/>

Technologies: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, TypeScript, React, VS Code, Git, GitHub

- Built and deployed a responsive dice analytics web app that allows tabletop players to track roll history and view a themed cursed/blessed score.
- Developed interactive React components for user input, roll tracking, result display, and dynamic UI updates.
- Applied JavaScript and TypeScript concepts to organize application logic, manage user interactions, and improve code maintainability.
- Styled the application with responsive CSS to support usability across desktop and mobile screens.
- Managed version control with Git and GitHub and deployed the project through GitHub Pages.

Personal Portfolio Website | Responsive Front-End Project

<https://morganneedham.github.io/Portfolio/>

Technologies: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, VS Code, Git, GitHub, GitHub Pages

- Designed and built a responsive personal portfolio website to showcase front-end projects, technical skills, contact links, and professional background.
- Created a custom dark-themed interface using CSS layout techniques, responsive sections, styled navigation, reusable card components, and mobile-friendly design.
- Implemented internal page navigation, external project links, contact links, and a deployed GitHub Pages workflow to support professional job applications.

Additional Bootcamp Projects | Web Development Training

- Built practice applications using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Node.js, Express, REST API patterns, and JSON data exchange.
- Practiced component-based development, form validation, state updates, event handling, debugging, and basic client/server communication.
- Used AI-assisted workflows to brainstorm UI ideas, debug code, improve documentation, and identify test scenarios.
